Experiences you'll have

Journey to the Uymon valley

You will travel to the heart of Altai – the Uymon valley. This unique mountainous area has been the center of nomadic culture and great migrations since ancient times. You will stay in a cozy eco-hotel located in a picturesque spot at the place of confluence of two Altai mountain rivers — the Katun and the Koksa Rivers. Every day you will enjoy light hiking in the mountains, picnics in nature and excursions with immersion in local culture.

During this trip you will:

- visit Old Believers — followers of the old Orthodox faith, get acquainted with their life and culture
- listen to the unusual sound of the bilo — an old Slavonic musical instrument
- collect medicinal Altai herbs with a herbalist, make traditional flatbread cooked on the hot stones and make Siberian tea
- visit the museum of Nicholas Roerich in the ancient village of Verkhny Uymon and learn about his famous Central Asian Expedition in 1925-1928

Koksa, where you will have dinner.

Believers' Museum. You will get acquainted with its founder Raisa Kuchuganova. She will tell you everything about the Russian Old Believers' culture and traditions. You will learn about the structure of their izba (Rus. for "village house") and ways of cooking traditional dishes of old believers' cuisine with the use of wild plants.

The peak of the Belukha is covered with sparkling snow and glaciers almost completely, which feed Katun, the "mistress of Altai" — the largest and most beautiful river in the Altai Mountains.
