

Where Russia's day begins

Cruise to Wrangel island

In the East of Russia, where the Chukchi Sea meets the Arctic Ocean, there is a UNESCO world heritage site, Wrangel Island. Scientists often call it the "Polar Bear Maternity Ward", because polar bears breed and prepare the cubs for harsh environmental conditions right here. During this journey you will have a chance to watch the "king of the Arctic" as closely as possible.

Experiences you'll have

Expedition to Wrangel Island

We invite you to one of the most unusual places in the country — Wrangel island, deemed to be the treasury of the Russian Arctic. Here you will meet polar bears, whales, walruses, musk oxen and numerous polar birds.

In addition to wildlife watching, during this journey you will:

- get acquainted with the daily life of the Chukchi reindeer herders, that has not changed much over the past centuries
- walk along the Egvekinot village built by Soviet GULAG's prisoners
- see the famous Whale Bone Alley — a unique monument of ancient Eskimos culture on the Yttygran Island
- get to Cape Dezhnev — the easternmost point of Eurasia
- watch the annual "Beringia" Arctic regatta and taste the national cuisine of Chukchi and Eskimos

The cost depends on a type of selected cabin. See details in the "Accommodation" section.

Itinerary

The journey begins in Anadyr, and you should travel to on your own. We are ready to help with the purchase of tickets, if necessary, leave a comment in the application.

Here is the general plan of the expedition, the route may vary depending on the weather and ice conditions.

Day 1

Upon arrival in Anadyr you will board the ship. Here you will meet the crew and expedition staff, who will give you a tour of the ship, show you the cabins, and give you a short safety briefing.

While you start a voyage, you can watch Beluga whales in the water area of the port.

Day 2

This small town was built by Gulag prisoners as a port to supply the rich Lultin mining complex located some 200 km inland. You will explore the town which has an excellent museum and will travel by "Ural" terrain vehicle towards Lultin and into the tundra to gain an appreciation of this unique landscape and wildlife close to the Arctic Circle.

Day 3

Today you will visit Konergino village. This is a small settlement of Chukchi reindeer herders, which is separated from Egvekinot by the Kresta Bay. Reindeer herding is still an important part of the indigenous people's culture and economy. So, you will get acquainted with the daily life of the Chukchi that has remained largely unchanged over the centuries.

Day 4

Today you will be cruising along the south coast of Chukotka and will take the opportunity to stop at Presbrazhenya Bay. Cruising by Zodiac boats along the spectacular bird cliffs could provide great photographic opportunities.

Day 5

The significant and intriguing archaeological site of 'Whale

Bone Alley' on Yttygran Island dates to the 14th century. Its origins and purpose have been the cause of much debate. Whale bones stretch along the beach in the form of a pathway for nearly half a kilometer.

Gray Whales are still frequently seen in the vicinity. In good weather, you will take a walk on the Zodiac boats in search of them. This afternoon you will intend to make a landing at the Gilmimyl Hot Springs.

Day 6

Sea conditions permitting, we plan to land at Cape

Dezhnev early this morning. It is the easternmost point of the Eurasian continent. In good weather, you can see the coast of America while standing on this uninhabited and remote outpost.

Making your way through the rocky beach, you will pass to the abandoned border base and will see the monument to Semyon Dezhnev, who was the first European to sail through this strait in 1648. This cape commemorates his accomplishment. The abandoned eskimo village of Naukan is also located here.

Day 7

On the way to Wrangel island, you can relax a bit, take photos, watch sea birds and possibly meet whales.

Day 8

These days you will spend exploring Wrangel island, watching bears, seals and walruses. Numerous boat trips on Zodiac boats, as well as landings are waiting for you. The routes will be laid by the reserve's guides, who know the places where musk oxen and polar bears are most likely to be found.

Day 9

The ship will depart for Kolyuchin island. At this time you will be able to attend lectures on board, to watch seabirds from the deck or the captain's bridge or just relax.

Day 10

This morning we will come to anchor at tiny Kolyuchin

Island. At certain times of the year when the ice recedes, large numbers of walrus haul out on the island. At the western end of the island is the remains of a Polar Research Station which was only abandoned in the 1990s. Nearby there are some amazing bird cliffs, it is possible to get magnificent views (and photographs) of puffins and guillemots as they come and go from their nests.

This afternoon you will cruise to nearby Kolyuchin Inlet, a massive tidal estuary and ideal habitat for many bird species. It is early enough in the season for the majority of them to either be on nests or have young. It is an easy landing with lots of opportunity for hiking, exploring and photography.

Day 11

You will arrive in the village of Lavrentia for the opening of the annual Beringia regatta, which includes whaleboat and Baidara (traditional walrus skin-covered boats) races. This is one of the most colorful festivals in Chukotka, which attracts people from all over the region.

In addition to the regatta, cultural group performances as well as tasting of national cuisine are waiting you here. This event will allow you to get acquainted with the culture of local peoples.

Day 12

While the ship is crossing the Anadyr Bay, you can rest in the library or bar. In the evening you will be invited to a farewell dinner where you can sum up the results of the expedition.

Day 13

After breakfast passengers will be taken ashore. A complimentary transfer to the airport or to a central downtown hotel will conclude the expedition.

What to bring with me

Personal equipment required

When choosing clothes and shoes, consider the features of the cruise. The temperature on the Northern route points can drop to 0°C.

Clothing: warm pants, waterproof pants, thermal underwear, sweater, turtleneck, wool cap, covering ears, balaclava/scarf, warm socks, waterproof windproof jacket with hood. At the last retirement party you can bring dressy clothes (heels not advised).

Shoes: boots with a grooved sole will allow you to stand most steadily; rubber boots are necessary, but they can be given on the first day of the cruise for free. If you plan to take your own boots, they should be up to mid-calf or higher with a thick ribbed non-slip sole. In some landings will have to step into the water to a depth of 25 cm. Also it can be quite slippery on the ice and on the shore. Make sure the boots sit comfortably on a woolen sock, it is important to bring warm insoles. In addition, you need sandals, sneakers or any other comfortable shoes for the ship and slippers for the shower.

Other: a small backpack for landings (preferably waterproof), warm and waterproof gloves, sunglasses, cream, chapstick, binoculars, earplugs.

Documents: passport, boarding pass on board (issued or sent by mail), plane ticket, copy of insurance.
