Mutnovsky and Gorely volcanoes.

After descending from the pass, you will find yourself on a vast mountain plateau. From here you will start your hike to the crater of the Mutnovsky volcano. You will see eternal glaciers, colorful rock outcrops, boiling mud pits, and a huge fumarole field with powerful sulfurous gas vents as you ascend. The crater of the volcano consists of two cones, each containing acidic crater lakes of vibrant colors.

After descending from the volcano, you will have lunch outdoors, then move on to the Opasniy (Rus. for "Risky") waterfall. Its height is 80 meters, and its powerful stream of rumbling waters plunges into a vast canyon.

You will return to the base camp by evening, have dinner in the restaurant and be able to rest and relax in the thermal pool.

Stage length: 50 km by ATM.

Day 3

Today you will be taken by helicopter to Kurilskoye Lake, where you will be able to observe the famous Kamchatka brown bears.

You will fly in a Mi-8 helicopter to the south of Kamchatka, making your first stop at Khodutka volcano, at the foot of which more than 20 thermal springs are located, forming the Goryachiy (Rus. for "Hot") brook with water temperature up to 80°C.

On the way to the Khodutkin Springs, you will fly around the picturesque Ksudach volcano (1079 m) holding an enormous lake inside its caldera. In March 1907, an unusually powerful eruption happened out of its young Shtubel cone: the ash spread all over the peninsula to the coast of the Sea of Okhotsk.

At the Hodutkin springs, you will have lunch outdoors.

After having a rest and swimming you will fly to Kurilskoye Lake by helicopter. There you will first have a hike to the source of the Ozernaya river, and then a one-hour walk along the lake, during which you'll be able to observe Kamchatka brown bears in their natural habitat.

The Kurilskoye Lake is the second largest freshwater lake in Kamchatka, formed in the caldera of an ancient volcano. The lake is one of the largest spawning grounds of prized fish species. Bears come out to the shores of the lake to feed, so you will have a unique opportunity to observe bears fishing from a close but safe distance.

You will then leave the lake, and a helicopter will take you to the starting point of the rafting trip down the Karymchina River. You will cover approximately 15 km on rafts, and you will be able to fish along the way. By evening you will pick a campsite, have dinner and rest in tents.

Day 4

After breakfast, you will continue rafting down the Karymchina river for approximately 15 km. Along the way, you will make several stopovers for rest, lunch and fishing. In the evening you will have a dinner of freshly caught fish and spend the night in the tent camp on the riverbank.

Day 5

In the morning after breakfast, you will cover a further 15 km stretch down the river and finish the trip at the hydropower station on the Tolmacheva river by lunchtime. After that, you will be taken by a comfortable Ural shift car to the familiar base camp in the Verhne-Paratunskaya valley.

In the evening you will have dinner and swim in the thermal springs at the base camp.

Day 6

Today you will have some free time at the base camp. You can simply have a rest and try the "Kamchatkan SPA" or choose one of the additional activities for an extra fee. You can go on ATV trips around the area, book fishing sessions, or surfing lessons in the Pacific.

We also recommend you take a helicopter tour to the Valley of Geysers – a unique natural landmark of Kamchatka and a UNESCO World Heritage Site. This program also includes a tour around the Uzon volcano caldera, a flight around the active Maly Semyachik Volcano and bathing in hot springs.

For more information on the cost of additional excursions, see the "Common Questions" section.

Day 7

Today after breakfast you will be taken to the port, from where you will embark on an 8-hour boat trip from Avacha Bay to Russkaya Bay.

The Avacha Bay is the "transportation gate" of Kamchatka and one of the largest ice-free bays in the world. Passing through Avacha Bay you will see picturesque cliffs, Babushkin Kamen (Rus. for "Grandma's Stone") island and one of the main symbols of Petropavlovsk-Kamchatskiy – the Three Brothers rocks.

Then you will take the boat out into the Pacific Ocean to Starichkov island. One of the largest colonies of waterfowl on Kamchatka is located there: murrelets, puffins, cormorants and guillemots nest here. During the trip, you can enjoy sea fishing. A diver will accompany you on the boat and catch the freshest seafood for you, so you'll have freshly cooked crab and sea urchins for lunch.

After reaching Russkaya Bay, you will take motorboats to the Kekurny Cape, where a large rookery of Steller sea lions – the largest of the eared seals – is located. You can get as close as possible to them by boat, and take amazing pictures.

After admiring the picturesque fjords of Russkaya Bay, you will head back to Petropavlovsk-Kamchatsky. If you are lucky, you might see orcas in the sea. On arrival at the port, you will be taken to a hotel in the city. In the evening you will have dinner (extra paid) and rest.

Day 8

After breakfast, a transfer to the Elizovo airport will take place, from where you will head home. You can stop at the fish market on the way if you so choose.
